

August 15, 2009

Email received from a rafting customer:

"I just wanted to thank you again for a truly spectacular day! I couldn't have asked for a better father-son experience! You made it fun, exciting, wet, and yet insightful! One of the reasons for this trip was that my son and I have always been really close, but it had felt like he had pulled away some lately. Your taking the time to reflect while we were on the water opened up some dialogue later, which ended up with him pouring out his heart about some problems and issues he was having. It's all good, and he is talking more and we have him talking with someone outside too, to help in areas where I am bad about getting a "good line" and end up "high-siding"! Anyway, excuse my poor attempt at rafting humor, but just wanted you to know it was good times, and I hope we can do it again with you sometime . . . Enjoy the summer and watch out for the tube-suck! Thanks for a most-excellent adventure!"